FOREWORD

Just as careful plans are taken in developing rockets and missiles, so are they also taken in developing a child through education guided by the teachers. In fact, one may think of a child as a rocket, carefully being prepared through 12 years of education for take-off day, or the day he graduates and starts to explore the outer world about him. The three stages of our educational rocket are 1-elementary grades, 2-Jr. High School, and 3-High School, each being equally important in the final take-off.

During this past year, rockets and space travel have taken a new look, but we know it is only beginning to show the potential possibilites. We hope the same is true of our seniors.

Now, go with us through our developing years and watch for the final take-off after the count down of twelve.

DEDICATION

As guiding stars are important to navigators to keep them on the right path, so are our parents important in guiding us. When things looked like the darkest night the guiding rays from our parents have shown through to show us the way. So we dedicate the 1959 Tiger Stripe to our parents with unexpressed gratitude for all their help.

CHATFIELD, OHIO

The "count-down" has finally been completed by the seniors. They are now "off" and "orbiting" hoping to "land" in a chosen field of endeavor which will insure them a better way of life in the years to come.

The school sincerely hopes that it has fulfilled its task in aiding the seniors, in developing good working habits, solving problems, respecting the rights of others, having an understanding and appreciation of their social heritage, and in preparing them for worthy home membership for life in a democratic society.

Regardless of where the "landing" happens to be, Seniors, remember that the horizon is only as far as one can see. Don't be near-sighted!

I Am Education

I am Education. I bear the torch that enlightens the world, fires the imagination of man and feeds the flames of genius. I give wings to dreams and might to brawn and brain.

From out the silent shadows of the past I come, wearing the scars of struggle and the stripes of soil, but bearing in triumph the wisdom of all the ages. Man, because of me, holds dominion over earth, air and sea; it is for him I leash the lightning, plumb the deep and shackle the waves of ether.

I am the parent of progress, the creator of culture and the molder of destiny. Philosophy, science and art are my handy works. I banish ignorance, discourage vice, disarm anarchy.

Thus have I become freedom's citadel, the arm of democracy, the hope of youth, the pride of adolescence, the joy of age. Fortunate the nations and happy the homes that welcome me.

The school is my workshop; here I stir ambitions, stimulate ideals, forge the keys that open the door to opportunity, the master of human destiny. I am the source of inspiration, the aid of aspiration, for I am Irresistible Power.

Fifteen girls and eight boys entered the first grade this year. One withdrew at the end of the second six weeks.

We made masks and paraded in the gym for the Halloween party. The annual Valentine party was the occasion for an exchange of greetings. At Christmas we made decorations for our tree, gifts for our mothers, and a gift exchange was held. In May a "Get Acquainted" party was given for the Pre-School children.

A Halloween party with decorations of witches, brown owls, and jack-o-lanterns was held in our room. A Christmas exchange and a Valentine party were both happy interruptions to our routine.

We kept a record of our library reading by adding feathers to an Indian headband. On the back of each feather the name of a book was written.

In September with squeaky new shoes and new smelling books we set to work.

We took time out in October for a Hallowe'en Party.

In November we were refreshed by a short Thanksgiving vacation. After which, with "vim" we worked on our Reading Circle Contest.

December found us exchanging names and making gifts Everyone had a secret!

January, my, those exams! Need more be said?

February! A Valentine Party--the boys were hosts.

Such a busy month March turned out to be! The contest was soon to close. Who is the winner?

April gave us that spring feeling.

May! Shoes worn out, books filled completely, yes, we close our books--clean our desks and move out. The class of 1968 will occupy "our" desks.

The boys outnumbered the girls by one, making our enrollment eleven boys and ten girls.

We had a Halloween party in which everyone was masked and helped guess "who's who." For our Christmas party, we exchanged names to buy gifts. A Valentine party was also held.

The operetta, given by grades four, five, and six, was called "Thirty Minutes with Santa Claus." Main characters from our grade were: Larry Shafer - - Mr. Wentworth
Roger Richards - Wise Man
Charles Briegel- Inn Keeper

Everybody was in the chorus.

We made copies of early Greek architecture and displayed types of their activites. Some in our room brought picture folders of places visited while on vacation in the West thus sharing their experiences.

At Christmas time we had the usual gift exchange and all had a part in making decorations for the tree and room. We also made gifts for our mothers.

We were entertained at a Valentine Party given by the fifth grade.

Our spring time projects included making Easter Greeting cards for our parents and gifts for Mother's Day.

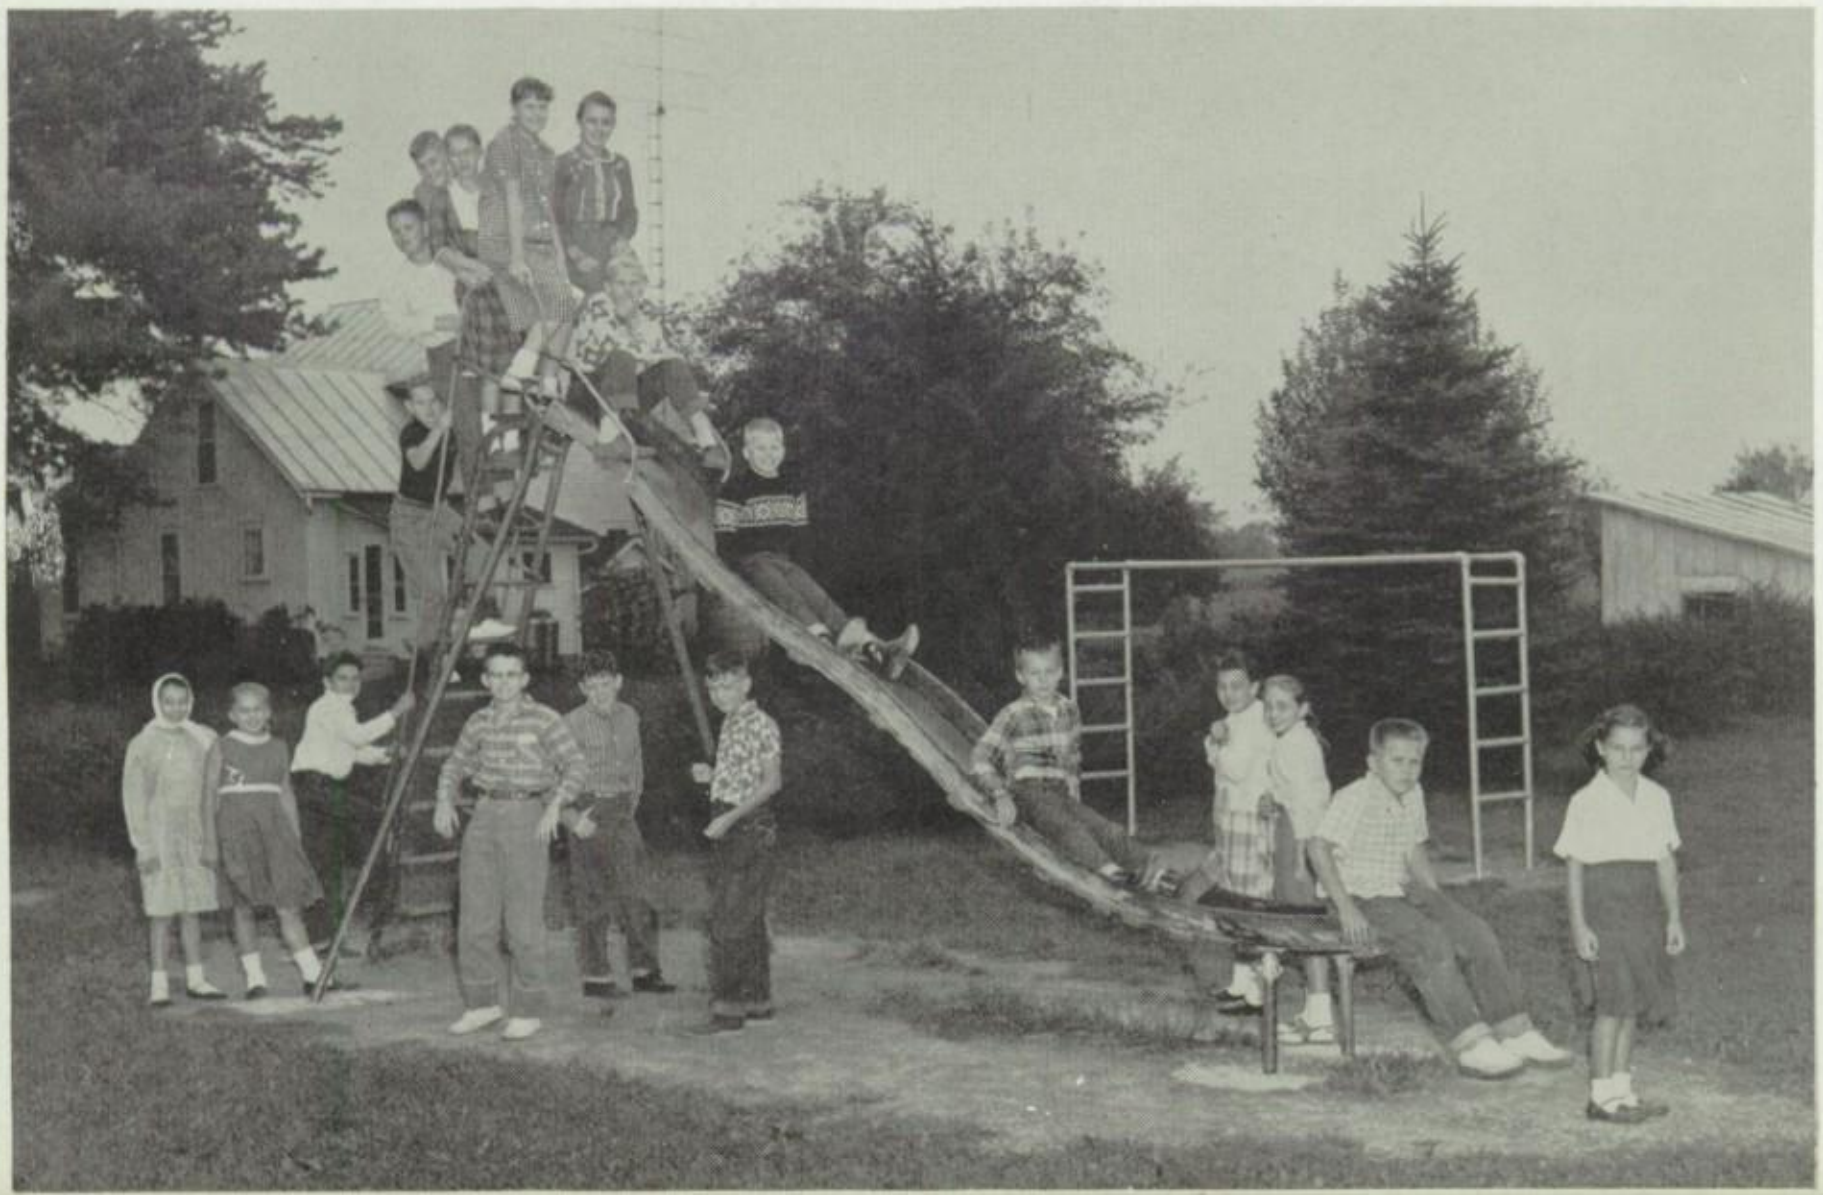
WHAT IS SCHOOL?

It is a new and very different world. It is listening; fascinated, as we venture through the magic doors of storyland. It is making new friends. It is the relief of recess, of running, jumping and shouting after being subdued for over an hour. It is the good smell of fresh air and the freedom of not having to wear coats on warm days. It is the bottom rung of the ladder for today's assembly of eager, scrubbed faces and toothless smiles, the first step toward the future which so hopefully belongs to them.



It is the joy of discovery that we can understand and follow directions; that we can think by ourselves, and complete assignments the teacher gives us. It is standing at the blackboard and trying very hard to make our printing the neatest, and our pleased grin when the teacher compliments us.

After having been warned about all that would happen to us "green freshmen", we actually enjoyed the initiation festivities. Some of the members of our class participated in the bowling league.

Representing our class for Mardi Gras candidate was Janet Kalb. Our Homecoming attendant was Marcia May escorted by Dwight Leuthold.

Our class won top honors in the magazine sales, with Margaret Phelan selling the most subscriptions. To return good for evil, we freshmen gave the senior farewell party in May.

Late in October we received our class rings.

We sponsored the annual high school Christmas Party creating a festive atmosphere with a Christmas tree, snow men, a fire place, Christmas card trees and a miniature Santa coming in his own private plane. A movie entitled "Abie's Irish Rose" served as the evening's entertainment.

"No Boys Allowed", our class play was presented on March 14.

The climax of our junior activities was the annual Junior-Senior Banquet--an event which comes each year but which was ours to plan and create this one time.

With much anticipation our class entered the final and, we think, our busiest school year. The first week found us starting plans for the school yearbook.

To be sure the freshmen were properly introduced to high school, the seniors made them go through the customary initiation party.

Since a trip to Washington D.C. and New York City were part of the future plans, we sponsored several money making projects; including a car wash, selling bulbs and foil, a class play, and a dance.
